Intersection Improvement of SR 74/Thomaston Road @ CR 61/ Lamar Road

Roundabout

The intersection of SR 74 with Lamar Road is located at MP 4.75, approximately 3.6 miles west of I-475 and approximately 2.1 miles south of Zebulon Road. This project proposes to reconstruct two existing intersections – the four-way stop controlled intersection of SR 74 and Lamar Road and the stop controlled intersection of Lower Thomaston Road and Johnson Road. The proposed intersection improvement will involve the construction of a modern, single-lane roundabout with five approaches at the current intersection of SR 74 and Lamar Road. The inscribed diameter of the roundabout will be 250-feet with a 20-foot circulatory lane, and a 14-foot concrete apron for truck turning movements. All approaches will have two 12-foot travel lanes separated at the intersection by a splitter island. The interior island and approach islands will be raised and exterior lighting will be provided. Curb, gutter, and sidewalk will be extended as far as necessary to adequately accommodate pedestrians and ADA requirements. The proposed right-of-way width will vary. The project length along SR 74 is approximately 0.35 mile, along Lamar Road/Johnson Road is 0.25 mile and along Lower Thomaston Road is 0.10 mile.

Traffic will be maintained on the existing roadway with stage construction.

The existing typical section for SR 74 includes two 12-foot travel lanes with two-foot paved shoulders and six-foot grassed shoulders. Lamar Road, Johnson Road and Lower Thomaston Road include two 11-foot travel lanes with six-foot grassed shoulder. The existing total width of right-of-way for SR 74 varies from 130 to 150-feet, Lamar Road and Johnson Road varies from 80 to 100-feet and Lower Thomaston Road is 70-feet.
